UC San Diego Summer Program for Women in Philosophy

June 20-July 1, 2016

The Philosophy Department at the University of California, San Diego is pleased to invite applications for the 2016 Summer Program for Women in Philosophy which will be held at UC San Diego from June 20-July 1. The two-week program provides undergraduate women with an engaging philosophical learning experience and prepares them to apply to graduate school in philosophy.

This year's faculty:
- Connie Rosati, University of Arizona
- TBD

Workshops Offered:
- Applying to graduate programs
- Philosophical writing
- Funding and resources

Participants get:
- Travel reimbursement up to $500
- Room and board on campus
- Stipend to cover incidentals

Participants must be US or Canadian citizens and sophomores or juniors at an accredited 4-year college or university. Applications are due by March 1, 2016. Those selected as participants will be notified by April 1, 2016. For more information on selection criteria and application instructions, please visit http://spwp.ucsd.edu, or email Kathryn Joyce at spwp@ucsd.edu.

The program is part of a long-term study designed to determine the effectiveness of programs such as this in helping undergraduate women who wish to pursue careers in academic philosophy to succeed. To this end, applicants who are selected will be asked to complete a brief anonymous survey in the years following their participation in the program.